“ David was without a doubt a light around the office. He once caught me skipping down the hallway and never let me live it down. We spoke very often, especially since I have recently broken my ankle and am in an aircast boot. He eventually started calling me "Hop-a-long." In fact, he would yell it down the hallway for everyone to hear. I will definitely miss his comforting voice.

Best wishes to the friends and family. You are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ David was my good friend and coworker. I worked across the hall from him and our morning ritual was to briefly talk and make sure we were good to go for the day. I will miss his warm smile that he passed around so generously, even on a stressful day. The world is a lesser place without him.

*Warmest regards to all of his friends and family,

“ I worked with David and enjoyed his sunny smile and great personality. He was so proud of his son and I hope it will be some small comfort in the future for Gavin that his dad was well liked and respected.
