“Gloria was my supervisor many years ago in my early training. She was patient, kind, understanding, and a wonderful model of "none of us is perfect so don't try to be." So many encouraging words helped me through the really tough days of a mentally grueling job. I thought of Gloria today, remembering the many, too many, nights of my doing on-call work for Brazos Co MHMR. Gloria was always available to guide me, to locate a middle-of-the-night judge to find their house, wake them up, and get them to sign a mental health warrant. I don't know that I ever told her how helpful she was. I also remember, many times over, her talking honestly about the joys but also the struggles of parenting a newborn. The "oatmeal brain" new moms experience. I remembered her words when I had fears of my own about returning to work after maternity leave. So here I am, 30 years later, three children and a thriving career to say, Thank you Gloria. Rest in Peace.
