“ Back in 2009 I was pleased and honored when Laura asked me to build a scale model of her father's ship, the USS Iowa, as a Father's Day gift. I still have the photo she sent when she gave it to him. She was able to share some of his stories from when he served in the Navy during WWII, and I've had the pleasure of passing them along to others. My sympathies go out to the family, he was a great man and will surely be missed.
