

Perry Don Jones

February 19, 1939 - August 18, 2025

Perry Don Jones' faith became sight, on Monday, August 18, 2025.

Born on February 19, 1939, in Jasper, Alabama, to Perry Dale Jones and Mary Tela Ingle Jones, Perry grew up with his three sisters—Mary Dale, JoAnn, and Ginny—on the family's Jones Dairy Farm. His childhood was filled with hard work, church dinners on the ground and hog-killing days at the old home place followed by large family gatherings. Perry was baptized and attended the First Baptist Church of Jasper with his family.

He graduated from Walker County High School in 1957. To celebrate, he and his friends acquired a donated 50-gallon drum of gas from the local station and spent the weekend water skiing on the Warrior River.

Perry went on to study at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Aeronautical Engineering in 1961. His engineering career began at Boeing in Seattle, WA. In 1964, he worked at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, AL, as a NASA engineer, contributing to the Saturn V rocket program. He later joined Lockheed in Marietta, GA, where he helped perfect the wing design of the C-5B aircraft. Eventually, Perry started his own fiberglass manufacturing business in North Georgia, where he spent many fulfilling years alongside his brother-in-law, Don Sanford. "PJ," as he was affectionately known enjoyed life in North Georgia: water-skiing, riding motorcycles, and raising his family. His life reached new joy and fulfillment when he met the love of his life, Sherry Horton, an Alabama native who made his heart whole. Married for 38 years, their journey together was marked by adventure and laughter—whether water-skiing, riding motorcycles, enjoying gospel music, bicycling along the Silver Comet Trail, or performing their unforgettable "Sonny and Cher" impersonation. Perry often said, "Sherry is my Savior and Angel. God sent her to me." Their love was inseparable and an inspiration to all who knew them. God called Perry's heart to Spring Creek Baptist Church in Rome, Georgia, where he served for many years as the Audio/Visual Technician for the church. Sherry served as Ministry Assistant. In later years, Perry and Sherry became members of The Fellowship of Albertville, Alabama. Perry is survived by his beloved wife of 38 years, Sherry Horton Jones; his children Krista Hackler (Ronald), Kelli Javan (Chris), Eric Young, and Denise Young; ten grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; and his sister, JoAnn Byram. He is also remembered fondly by many extended family members and friends. He is preceded in death by his daughter Michela Kay Jones; his parents, Perry

Dale and Mary Tela Ingle Jones and Euna Estes Jones; his sisters, Mary Dale Sanford and Ginny Small;

and his in-laws, Robert and Virginia Gibbs Horton.

The family expresses heartfelt gratitude to Amedisys Hospice of North Georgia for their attentive love and care.
