“ My favorite memory of Russ is the very first time we met him. He and Jan had driven from Fl.all the way to Maine, so he was understandably exhausted. After a cordial "howdy-do" he headed straight for the recliner in the living room and fell sound asleep. Jan was mortified, but let me tell you that anyone who feels comfortable enough to do that in our home was meant to be in our family. He was quite the man. Joyful, reliable, a great father and husband with a strong worth ethic and a wonderful sense of humor.

We will surely miss you Russ.

Condolences to the whole family.
